

How you can help “Thriving in Place” and your CP neighbors

TIP has been providing temporary services to Carolina Preserve residents to help them stay in their homes and thrive since 2019, but we need your help!

We have a fantastic group of volunteers who have generously offered to help their neighbors through TIP. The more volunteers we have, the more CP neighbors we can help.

By volunteering now, you can help guarantee that TIP will be here when you may need it in the future.

If you enjoy volunteering for a good cause, working and socializing with a great group of people, come join us!

What does TIP cost?

There is never any charge to CP residents for services provided by TIP, and there are no dues or annual fees required. We do ask all CP residents to consider making a voluntary tax-deductible donation to TIP to help defray operating expenses. You do not have to donate or volunteer to request services.

Thriving in Place Is not a place; It is a plan.

IT IS... an affordable alternative to living with our adult children or moving to a retirement community.

IT IS... a safe way to receive the temporary services we want or need with just one phone call or email.

IT IS... part of a larger and growing network of similar organizations across the country.

IT IS NOT... an attempt to turn Carolina Preserve into a retirement community, or anything other than an active adult community, with the lifestyle we all love and want.

IT IS NOT ... affiliated with and is independent of the Carolina Preserve by Del Webb at Amberly Homeowners Association.

Why we need Thriving in Place

Many of us would prefer to live in our own homes as we age. But, as we all know, some tasks (like household chores and driving) become more challenging with time. And sometimes we face temporary setbacks due to accidents or health issues. We need more help, but we are reluctant to ask our busy children who have families of their own. Or we may not have family members close enough to help.

Thriving in Place (TIP) offers a wide array of temporary support services to help older adults continue to live here at home and enjoy our CP lifestyle!
